

Application for Independent Study

York College of Pennsylvania

Independent Study Guidelines:

An Independent Study is a well-defined, individual research project supervised by a faculty member and completed without formal class meetings. These studies provide students with the opportunity to gain experience doing research, to work closely with a faculty mentor on a project within their discipline, and to gain academic credit for their work. Since such projects involve less formal teaching than regular courses; effective Independent Study experiences require an increase in student responsibility and initiative in the learning process.

ELIGIBILITY: Independent Study is available to matriculated students who have earned 60 or more credits and a minimum 2.5 cumulative grade point average at the time of application. Independent Study courses must be completed during one semester or in Summer Session II, and credit will be awarded only if this application is completed by the last date to add a course for the semester or the summer session. All tuition and fees must be paid according to published deadlines.
